ABOUT

I am curious, creative and positive (except when I have to go to the dentist, who, yet, is a nice person, I guess, his problem is just that he insists, you know, in using that noisy drill, a trivial, medieval torture tool ... !).

I am passionate for people, cities and new situations and for any kind of beauty expressions, particularly: contemporary art, dance, cinema, comics and infoviz, nature and architecture (see, teeth drilling is not in the list!).

I easily empathize with people and enjoy translating clients wishes and needs into plans, exploiting design thinking tools and approach, thanks to a strong attitude for visual thinking and storytelling ability. I like interacting in multicultural environments and I strongly value and trust team work. Sense of organisation and deadlines respect complete my profile.

Oh, by the way, I prefer warm, sunny days and despite the photo here is low quality I chose it because I bet sunset colors will enhance good mood into the reader, did it work?
